About DASH

DASH is a disabled led visual arts organisation.

We fund new work by disabled artists.

We also run creative workshops and training.

We want to make sure disabled artists have the same opportunities as everyone else.

About the project

Coronavirus is a new type of virus which makes people ill.

To avoid getting coronavirus people have stayed at home.

To stay in touch with colleagues, friends and family many people have been using zoom.

Zoom is the name of an online video call.

Using zoom has been good for some people as it's made getting involved and keeping in touch more accessible.

We have started a new online arts project called 'Worlds Within Worlds'.

This project is all about being creative at home and connecting with people using zoom.

We are looking for 3 artists to run workshops online.

Each artist will run 3 workshops over 3 weeks using zoom.

We would like the artists to use their creative skills to inspire a group of disabled people to get creative in their homes.

Payment

Each artist will be paid £600.

This money covers 10 hours of your time.

There is also extra money available to pay for arts materials.

For example, this could be paint, paper, pencils, or other supplies.
