

World within Worlds

We are DASH. We support disabled artists to make work.

We are looking for disabled artists to be part of our project World within Worlds.

World 1 course

There are 3 different worlds to choose from. All the worlds are online and virtual. You might be a painter, illustrator or performer. What you find out and do in your world is up to you.

World 1

Form is Emptiness, Emptiness is form

This course runs from 20th April – 13th May.

You will work with an artist called Karen Barnes from Zen Pulp. Karen will work with you to find out more about emptiness and what this means to you and your art.

You will work on a project with Karen using different art forms. For example, you might look at Japanese printing, poetry and paper folding. This is called origami.

Karen will work with you to bring your art and skills together in this course.

Karen has taught herself to be an artist. She has a degree in Sociology and her artwork is in different areas. For example, she likes to solve problems and look at different worlds.

You can find out more about Karen and her work here
